Auburn, N. Y. JOHN E. RANK Is the Agent for this Work in the countles of Franklin, Scott, and Bourbon.

From the many recommendations of this Work we have only room for the following: From Rev. Dr. Teft, late President of Gennessee Col-Gentlemen:—Having made a particular examination of Goodrich's "History of Ali Nations," I am free to say, that I know of no work, great or small, that contains helf the amount of neefal and entertaining matter for family reading. It is written in Mr. Goodrich's hest etyle. It is a library, a historical library of itself; and it is worth, according to the usual cost of good reading, two or three times the money you ask for it. It is no wonder that you have to keep a power pross running constantly to supply the orders for these volumes; for the public have only to know their value to make them a universal want with all classes.

I am, gentlemen, most respectfully yours.

E. F. TEFFT.

Extract from a Letter from Ex-l'resident Fillmore. I think it enamently deserving of the public patron age. It is accessarily brief; but it brings under re view, with its admirable illustrations, the principal sub ects worthy of attention la all nations, and to the young ects worthy of attention in an arrange specially, it is invaluable. •
I have been familiar with Mr. Goodrich's writings for many years, and have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with him; and think him admirably quailfied for imparting instruction in a way that brings it within the reach of the common mind.

If I have, I can write them,' was his reply. 'Allow me to see your mother's letter; I am in the dark, you remember, about this house—all but the bare meution of facts.'

The Countess of Hartledon's answer was to put the letter into her pocket, out of sight. 'Mamma does not like her letters to be seen by all the world,' was her only apology. 'I shall go and tell my maid to begin packing up.'

The Countess left the room as she spoke, and the earl fell into a disheartening reverie. In marrying his present wife he had acted a most dishonorable part, for he had been for years cugaged to another young lady. But he was thrown into the society of the Lady Maude, had been caught by her beauty, and was finally secured by the prompt manœuvering of her mother. Ay, and of herself too; for though she cared not for him, indeed she disliked him, she did eare for the title and for the broad lands of Hartledon. The earl walked into the snare and married her; but searcely had the knot been tied, when he began to wonder whether he had not paid dearly for his whistle. The Countess of Hartledon and Lady Maude Kirton appeared to be totally distinct and dissimilar beings; Lady Maude was all disinterested gentleness and child like sauvity; Lady Hartledon was positive, extravagaut, and selfwilled. Many another husband has been disagreeably astonished by the like metamorphosis; but it is to be hoped that few are conscious, like the earl, of deserving the mortification. He had and took possession of the house in question — and—One intense gratification greeted the earl; it was to find that his wife's mother was not in it. The dargerous illness of a relative had unexpectedly called her to Ireland, and the earl devoutly wished she might stop there. He had a shrewd suspicion that she purposed saddling herself upon him for an indefinite period, and as she had ruled and moulded him to her will before his marriage, was private and could only be entered into with she would doubtless be for doing the same th after it. MONDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1858 Our Exponent of Law and Dispenser of Justice-again. case of the Commonwealth against Evelyn, says there is reason for the strictures of the Gazette. the killing of McCurpy, upon au indictment for murder, which was tried at the term of the Frank lin Circuit Court just adjourned, attending the election, Evelyn came down Main street, crossed St. Clair, and had proceeded some thirty feet down the latter street in a direction from McCur dy, when McCurdy hallooed "hurrah for Todd," the American candidate for Sheriff; whereupon, Evelyn hallooed "hurrah for red hell," and turn ed back, went up St. Clair, crossed over that street to the Northeast corner of St. Clair and Main, where McCurdy stood, and going directly up to him and thrusting his face close to McCurdy's, again hallooed "hurrah for red hell," adding "what have you to say to that?" To which McCurdy, as the witnesses stated, evidently cowed, replied, "I have nothing to say to that, but I say hurrah for Todd." Evelyn, with his face still thrust into that of McCurdy's, (if we may use such an expression,) repeated his forme words almost precisely; to which McCurdy replied in about the same language we have al ready given. Evelyn then turued off, walked three or four steps to where a Mr. MERSHON stood, and asked him if he had a knife: Mersho replied "no, but I have a pistol." Evelyn asked for the pistol, which was handed him, coeking i he stepped quietly up to McCurdy, placed its muzzle within eighteen inches of his body and fired. McCurdy ran into a store, opposite the door of which this occurred, and, pursued by Evelyn, ran behind the counter and under it; Evelyu jumped upon the counter and threw his pistol under it at McCurdy, and while he was in the act of getting over the counter McCurdy by running along behind it made his escape at the side door and ran up the street towards the Cap ital flotel. Evelyn regained his pistol and pursued McCurdy up the street for the distance of a square, pistol in hand, making inquiry for and ewearing he would kill him. McCurdy died in about thirty-six hours, the ball having cutered his left side just below the ribs, and badly lacerating him.

About dusk on the night of the last August

The proof on the part of the accused was of character going to show that, at the time Evelyn committed the act, he was drunk; that his conduct was wild and phrenzied; that he was, how ever, able to parade the streets without stagger ing but very little

Upon this proof, after having denied the various instructions asked for by the Commonwealth. his Houor, Judge Nuttall, instructed the jury, in substance: that if they believed the accused was so intoxicated that he was unable to know right from wrong, they must acquit him.

This instruction was not authorized by proof. There was no proof of such a condition on account of drunkenness as authorized Judge Nut tall to hypotheticate the fact that the accused was so druuk that he was not able to distinguish between right and wrong. And even if such proof had been presented, his instructions were con trary to law, as we are informed by the highest legal authorities, and as our own understanding teaches us The law upon this subject since the times of Lord Coke and Sir William Blacksto has been that voluntary drunkenness, so far fron excusing or palliating an offense, is an aggrava tion. Coke says: "A druukard, who is voluntarius "daemon, hath uo privilege thereby; but what hurt "or ill socver he doth his drunkenness doth aggra "vate it; nam omne crimen ebrietas, et incendit, et " detegit." (1 Inst. 241.) Sir William Black stone says: "As to artificial voluntarily con "tracted madness, by drunkenness or intoxica "tion, which, depriving men of their reason, "puts them in a temporary phrenzy, our law "looks upon this as an aggravation of offense, "rather than as an excuse for any criminal mis-"behavior. " " considering how "easy it is to counterfeit this excuse, and how "weak an excuse it is (though real) will not "suffer a mau to privilege one crime by another." (Black. Com. 4th Book 18th page.)

The instruction of the Court was, as we have stated, that the jury should acquit the prisoner of all offense if they believed he was so drunk that he did not know right from wrong. Those asked for by the Attorney for the Commonwealth and denied by the Court were, in substance: that if the jury believed voluntary intoxication to have existed in the case of the prisoner to such a degree as to exclude the idea that he could have formed a design or deliberate intention to commit the bomicide, that the offense was thereby re duced to manslaughter, but that voluntary drunk enness could not excuse the crime in any case.

Iu support of this instruction asked for by him, the Attorney for the Commonwealth read from various authors upon criminal law, such as RUSSELL, WHARTON, ROSCOE, &c., and very clear ly demonstrated, to our mind at least, that he was correct, and that there had never becu a sin gle case in which it was held that voluntary drunkenness excused the commission of homicide. It was admitted that offenses committed in a state of madness which was the ultimate or remote effect of drinking, as delirium tremens, and mania a potu, and where the party was in the condition supposed by the Court's instruction, friend. that such madness excused; but, it was contended, that drunkenness which was the direct effect of Vol. 3, page 5-20; and to any other author that The demurrer was overruled, and the validever wrote on the subject.

Himself an able juriet and possessed of extensive attain ments as a lawyer, he had given universal satis faction as a Reporter, and not the slightest com plaint was ever muttered against him in his official capacity even by the most fault-finding and ceusorious. Learned, industrious and pains taking, he had ably performed every duty incum bent upon him, and had come up to every requirement of his position. As a man and a citizen his conduct had been no less exemplary. A strict and conscientious member of a highly respectable and influential religious denomination crupulously honest and upright in all his dealngs with his fellow men; as a friend kind, sincere, and frank; as a citizen public spirited and enterprising, not a whisper of reproach had ever been breathed against him in any of these capacities. It could not, then, have been the want of any qualification as a Reporter, or the lack of any necessary attribute in his personal character, which induced the Judges of the Court of Appeals to supersede Judge Monroe, by the appointment of a gentleman wholly in experienced in the duties of the office. It was eral. partizan prejudice and the vile spirit of proscription dominant in the land which induced these Democratic Judges to be guilty of an act of their political principles, and for no other their judicial conduct. of Reporter was an actentirely unprecedented in ince the organization of that court, no Reporter was ever removed or superseded until the case of Judge Monroe, but they were all allowed to contime in office until they died or voluntarily re signed. This was a mark of esteem and a re vard of services which had always been tendered to the meritorious and deserving. It has been eserved to the period of Locofoco ascendancy in the State and upon the Supreme Bench to make partisan services, and not eminent ability and ong service to the State, the test for office, pure y ministerial or judicial. In the days gone past, when the Supreme Bench of Kentucky was occupied by able jurists and profoundly learned lawyers instead of county politicians; In those days when the decisions of our Court of Appeals were read and looked to as models of justice and and pure men who then graced the Beuch would have scorned to be guilty of such an aet as much as they would the offer of a bribe. They never permitted their political opinions to bias their judgment on the Bench.

We regret for the sake of the Supreme Judges and our own feelings that it has become our duty to animadvert upon their action. We are orry to see that in assuming the Judicial ermine they have not discarded their partizan prejudices and predilections, but that their minds are still aundiced by political hatred and bad feeling, that they are incapable of even for a moment laying it aside and deciding solely upon the mer its of a person without reference to politics .-We submit it to their own better judgement to say whether or not the confidence of the people in their impartiality and freedom from all bias will not be shaken by this exhibition of their leaungs. KENTUCKY RACERS AT MEMPHIS .- A letter from Memphis names the following racers from Kenmenced on Tuesday last and closed Saturday: J. L. Bradley, with Des Chiles and Nannie

John M. Clay, with Waterloo and Charles

Frank Harper, with Hempland and a two year old Lexington colt.
John Campbell, with Jack Gamble. Mr. Merriwether, with a g. c. by Ambassador.

To The Pennsylvania law against cruelty to animals should be cuforced upon Col. Forney and his Press, or perhaps the late member from Berks can get out an injunction to restrain the publication of sneh articles as the following:

> AN EPITAPH. Favorite Menial of the President of the United States, Recently Deceased. In England of old it was ever the rule

That the King kept his butter and also his fool,
But in modern Republics one man will suffice
To be the Court fool, and the bottles to ice.
The one who lies here Buck's marketing did.
Gave cards round for dinner to those who were bid,
And exulted o'er others, when not asked to dino
On Executive mutton and Cabinet wine.

CARRYING THE JOKE TOO FAR .- The addition of Kansas as a slave State, would have made the ower of the South equal to that of the North the Schate. - Louisville Courier.

It is amusing to read such a declaration as that Kansas, as unti slavery as Massachusetts, ready to send two Black Republicans to the Senate, make the North and South equal! That is ear rying the joke rather too far at this late day! Lou. Democrat.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE BY IRA STOUT .-We are informed that Ira Stout yesterday made another attempt to destroy his life by sezing the razor with which the barber was shaving his beard. He was not successful in drawing the Instrumen across his throat, as he intended to do. resolved to destroy himsell' before the fatal mo nent arrives, and with the ingenuity he posses ses may succeed .- Roch. THE ADMIRAL'S FLAG. - A naval officer fine nishes the following:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9, 1858 Mr. Editor: The newspapers for the past week have been eudeavoring to hoist the Admiral's flag; but all the articles that I have seen are a little in error, and I will endeavor to take the kinks out of the hallairds for you.

Before the present law which authorizes Cap ains commanding squadrons to be styled Flag Officers, those officers were called Commodores and hoisted their flag (a swallow-tail blue broad pennant with thirteen stars) at the main. when two or more Commodores met the senio in rank kept the blue pennant flying, the second losted the red, and the next in rank the white. Recently the grade of Commodore have been abolished, and with them the broad pennants Now, Flag Officers whose commissions as Cap tains bear date twenty years back, hoist a square blue fing at the fore; those whose commissions are less than twenty years old, hoist the same lag ut the mizzen.

The square flag at the fore, in all foreign navies, denotes the presence of a Vice Admiral at the mizzen, a Rear Admiral; and at the main, an Admiral.

QUARTERMASTER.

D'A correspondent of the Springfield Repub ican says that a natural daughter of Aaron Burr, and his residuary legatee, comes curionsly iuto possession of quite a fortune, in this way: Burr reld a lease from Trinity church of the Richmond Hill property, three or four hundred lots in the centre of New York for 66 years. He re-leased the land for 63 years to Astor and others, and their lease expires in 1860. The lease for three years, then, belongs to Burr's daughter, and the laim is indisputable and the value of the lease very great. Already some of the lessees have compromised the claim for from $1,500 to $2,000

Rheumatism Cured!

Not less than about twenty thousand cases, of this painful and paralyzing disease, have already been cured by the use of Dr. Mortimore's cele orated remedy. These comprise cases of every seeming form of the disease, from those of a re cent Inflammatory (acute) character, to old Chronic cases of ten, twenty, and even thirty years standing, and this after the patients had long een given up as incurable by emiuent physici ans. Some had taken voyages at sea, spent years of residence in the most salubrious climes, visit ed the various "Water Cure" establishments and celebrated Springs, both in this country and Europe, yet had still remained cripples, until they used this remedy, and by its use have been restored to health.

This is a vegetable-internal remedy, prepared and recommended for this one disease alone. This it cures, and is perfectly safe to be used in any state of health, even by the most delicate fe male or child.

Evidence of the highest possible character from physicians, elergyman and others, is pub lished in behalf of this remedy, such as to give it character with every intelligent or reflecting mind. This evidence will be furnished to any address desired. The medicine is sold at $5 pe bottle, five bottles for $20, or $40 per dozen, and will be sent by Express, or as directed, to any part of the Union. Apply to or address DR. D. MORTIMORE.

VICTORY!!

GEO. B. SLOAT & CO'S

Family Sewing Machine Triumphant!

THESE Machines have been on exhibition at the Louisville Mechanles' Fair for the past six weeks, contending with Wheeler & Wilson's Celebrated Machine, and many others, for the prize. Mer thorough examination, by compelent Judges, the premium was awarded to Stoar's Machines, and now we notice the acknowledgment of the defeated party to the Justice of the award, by the sudden and material reduction in the price of the defeated Machine.

Stoat's Machines have been introduced in Kentucky since July last; since which lime they have rapidly gained in public tayor, and such is now the demand for them, in consequence of their superiority and low price, that the manufacturers at Philadelphia are turn ing out 200 per week, and the demand not fully met.

There is no other Sewing Machine now before the public that will carry the heavy, or the light thread, perform equally well on the threkest and heaviest, or light est fabric, and which has entire freedom from that painful and never-to-be-forgotten trouble, called the padit is very simple and strong in its construction, offered at the low price of $60, and warranted to perform perfectly for three years.

Reference given to all persons using Wheeler & Wilson's Machines, if not prejudiced. It will give me great pleasure to show these Machines to all persons desirous to purchase or examine a Sewing Machine that will not vex and trouble them in its performance.

A First Rate Distillery for Sale.

DEING about to engage in other pursuits, 1 offer for D sale my DISTILLERY and FIXTURES. This property is about one mile below Frankfort, and Just below the Lock, and within the range of the proposed extension of the water privileges. It has an excellent whart, perfectly convenient for the landing of coal, wood, gram, &c., and equally so for the shipment of everything either up or down the river. The improvements consist of a large 3 story stone warehouse, a still-house, wood-house, and excellent pens. The machinery is of the best and most improved patterns for making Copper Distilled Whisky—the engine is a splendid one and entirely new, having cost, a few months since, about one thousand dollars. The establishment is supplied by a splendid spring of pure water which never falls and never gets muddy. The property could, at a very trifling cost, bo converted into one of the best and most eligible flouring nulls in Xentacky. Any one wishing to purchase will apply to me at my residence adjacent to the premises.

ment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afficied with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

TO all persons afflicted with Sexual Diseases, such as I SPERMATORRHEA, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, IMPOTENCE, GONORRHEA, GLEET, SYPHILIS, the Vice of ONANISM, or SELF-ABUSE, &c., &c. The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the a wful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispeusary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give MEDICAL ADVICE GRATIS, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c..) and in cases of extreme poverty, to FURNISH MEDICINES FREE OF CHARGE. It is needless to add tha the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevoent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised cause.

Just Published by the Association, a Report on Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, the Vice of Onnsiem, Masturbation or Self-Abuse, and other Diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, which will be sently mail, (in a sealed letter envelope,) FREE OF CHRAGE on receipt of TWO STANPS for postage.
